Route 1 Youth Is Killed When Car Falls from Jacks

Marvin Hanley, 17, Route 1, Circleville, was killed at about 1:15 p. m. yesterday when the car he was working on fell on him.

A companion, Ted Fowler, 18, Route 1, Circleville, was injured when the car fell. Both boys were working on the car at Fowler's home. The auto is owned by Fowler.

According to Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover, the car slipped from two bumper jacks while the youths were working underneath the rear of the vehicle.

Deputy Hoover said Hanley died of a crushed chest and suffocation. Fowler was admitted to Berger Hospital for a mild crushing of the chest.

THE YOUTHS were pinned underneath the auto for almost 1 1/2 hours before help came. Mrs. William Fowler, the injured youth's mother, came home from shopping at about 2:45 p. m. and found the boys. She immediately raised the auto with a bumper jack from her car.

Mrs. Fowler said it was the first time she ever used a jack. Her frantic effort probably saved her son's life, but came too late to save young Hanley.

The Fowler youth said his companion died about 30 seconds after

Nixon Ready To Log More Travel Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—If travel will do it, Vice President Richard M. Nixon is going to be one of the best-informed men available for a presidential nomination in 1960.

Nixon's forthcoming trip to Moscow in July will add about 10,000 miles to the 279,647 he already has logged since January 1953, when he took office.

Although Nixon's penchant for getting around in the world falls short of former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' 560,000 miles of total travel, Nixon has visited more countries—54 to Dulles' 46. Nixon also has been in five U. S. possessions.

Nixon's first—and longest—overseas official tour came in his first year as vice president. That 70-day trip in 1953 took him through large areas of the Middle East and Asia.

The July trip to Moscow to open an American fair there will be Nixon's first venture behind the Iron Curtain. He has hit the edges during visits to Austria and Germany, and in various countries in Asia.

There is no doubt in administration circles that Nixon will get the red carpet treatment in Moscow. He can be expected to confer with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and lesser officials.

New Violence Plagues Mill

Patrolmen Escort Non-Striking Aides

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP) — Nearly 100 State Highway patrolmen, pushing through lines of jeering strikers, escorted workers in and out of the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills today following a new wave of violence.

About 300 workers, advised to bed down inside the plant overnight when angry crowds gathered outside, departed under police protection.

"Come on out you scabs," shouted one woman striker. "We'll get you," another screamed.

Three autos bearing first-shift workers were stoned as they approached the North Henderson plant gates. One driver jumped out of his car and hurled himself at a nearby striker. Police quickly stopped the fight.

A dynamite explosion ripped up a section of earth inside the North Henderson plant gates during the night. There was little damage to the buildings. Occasional rifle shots shattered windows and splattered against plant walls late at night.

Police patrolled mill areas during the night. City officials had appealed to Gov. Luther Hodges for the patrolmen to help keep order.

The strike had appeared ended Sunday when the Textile Workers Union of America locals voted to ratify a contract settlement. But union officials, complaining of the status of returning workers, declined to sign the agreement Monday.

They said they would delay signing until the matter "is clarified." "The strike is off but it is not settled," said Boyd Patton of Charlotte, regional director for the union.

Company President John D. Cooper Jr. said today no agreement is in effect with the TWU. Union members, he charged "repudiated it by their actions. They don't seem to have any sense of responsibility for their own commitments."

Cooper added that Monday night's incidents would not discourage him from continuing a second shift. "If I shut one down," he said, "I will shut them all down, and I won't open them up anymore."

The strike began five months ago when the mills refused to continue an arbitration clause in the contract. This issue, job seniority rights for strikers and others, and union check off provisions deadlocked negotiations until last Friday, when Hodges mediated the dispute.

from about 205 million dollars to around 93 million dollars.

In the hope of getting the six votes required for committee approval, Democrats agreed to drop from the bill proposals to place the sales tax on:

Material used in manufacturing, laundry, linens, dry cleaning, admissions to sports events and theaters, agricultural and industrial fuel, fertilizer, livestock, naphtha, ships and ship repairs.

Removed also from the bill were provisions to apply the sales tax on material used in church and public building construction.

DETROIT (AP) — Police said a man who escaped from a mental hospital admitted today he strangled Marvin Zdanowski, 5, whose body was found in a garage Monday night.

Lieut. Hiram Phipps of the Detroit homicide squad said the confession was obtained from George Ritola, 47, who resided intermittently with a sister residing in the same house with the boy's deaf mute parents.

Police said Ritola, a former patient at a Galesburg, Ill., mental hospital, broke under a barrage of questions. Phipps said Ritola told them the boy was a government spy—"Spies have been chasing me all over town. There are thousands of them. I intend to get them all."

NACOGIOCHES, Tex. (AP) — A towering old courthouse collapsed Monday onto the modern structure replacing it, but a coffee break kept six persons out of the path of tons of rock. Damage was estimated at $150,000.

A wall of the old Nacogioches County Courthouse, being razed, toppled onto the roof of the new courthouse. Tons of debris buried the office of the tax assessor-collector, C. D. Thomas, shortly after he and five employees left for coffee.

SEAL BEACH, Calif. (AP)—It took an order from the City Council to make him do it, but after 26 years Lee Howard finally is going to take a vacation.

And what a vacation—16 months with pay. How is he going to spend it—seeing the world, hunting, fishing? Not a chance. He'll be right here.

Howard has been police chief in this seaside resort, a few miles down the coast from Los Angeles, since 1932. He has been on the job or on call 24 hours of every day, without even time off for sickness.

At first it was a small force and Howard figured his men had priority on any off-time available. Then the town began to grow, and so did his duties.

Because of a lack of city funds, the police chief found himself suing business licenses, running

400 Roundtowners Applaud City Plan

By ROBERT K. HARROD Editor

About 400 Circleville citizens received the proposed Master Plan with wonder and applause last night.

It was presented in a town meeting at the Circleville High School auditorium. The meeting was followed by a question session.

Generally, the opinions of those who heard the plan explained by those who formulated it were highly laudatory. They saw what they liked, and they liked what they saw.

The Circleville Master Plan was the work of the city design graduate class of Miami University, working under the direction of Prof. Rudolph Frankel. The meeting last night was sponsored by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce, which underwrote the program.

The plan itself is a long-range one, designed for a city of about 25,000-30,000 persons in about 20 years.

IT IS A blueprint for living, working and playing in the future. One fact stands out. The economic base for this plan is industry. Without new industry Circleville has no future—thus no need for a plan.

In broad aspect the plan calls for five major areas in the community. Three are residential in nature, one is commercial and the other is industrial.

In planning for the future, the city designers have extended the city limits roughly about a half mile east and a half mile south. North of Hargus Creek would lie two residential areas, called neighborhoods. The area bounded by Scioto St., the Norfolk & Western Railway on the south, Mingo St. on the east and High St. on the north would be commercial area and residential area for rehabilitation. The industrial zone would be from Ohio St. south and east of the N & W Railway.

A large picture of the proposed Master Plan will appear in tomorrow's big City Progress edition of The Herald. Later, The Herald will carry a series of stories, explaining details of the Master Plan.

The Wednesday Herald also will carry advertising by Circleville merchants and industry calling attention to the fact that this is a bustling town—a good place to live and shop.

The Retail Merchants have teamed together for a two-day "Circleville Days" bargain-fest Friday and Saturday — to show area shoppers that you can find it here.

Hargus Creek from the Route 23 bypass to beyond the Pickaway County Fairgrounds would be bordered on both sides with a central park.

There are a dozen park areas interspersed throughout the city. Provisions are made for two new elementary schools and expanded Berger Hospital area.

The planners made it clear that adoption of the plan will not destroy anything. It would preserve the assets of the community and eliminate the liabilities. It would take years to accomplish.

They explained that the way to reach objectives of the plan is to adopt a new zoning ordinance, building code, subdivision regulations and cooperate with county zoning.

THE MEETING was opened by L. D. Varble, president of the Chamber of Commerce. He told the audience that the attendance at the meeting indicates that Circleville citizens want to progress and do not want to rest on past laurels.

Varble explained how the plan came into being, through the efforts of the Chamber. He said that Circleville was chosen by the city design class for its friendliness and sincere desire for assistance in planning for the future.

Presenting the proposed plan were city planners John Grifalconi, David McAleese, Helm Roberts, Paul Christiansen, Andre Wallays and George Gorgi. Unable to attend were Betty Francis and Craig Lindelow.

The designers displayed the plan on a screen, and explained briefly what each of the 16 charts and maps means. Later, in the question period in the school cafeteria, they spoke to interested persons about the plan's details.

In concluding the session Varble declared that the Master Plan is NOT a device to pump up real estate values, a guard against business competition nor a way of keeping 'in' a city hall.

He emphasized that the plan is a guide, based on forecasted needs, to make the growth of Circleville logical and wholesome rather than haphazard.

"Change is inevitable — so let's make our changes constructive," Varble declared.

"With the solid backing of every Roundtown, Circleville will grow and prosper and take its rightful place, as a great community in which to work, shop, worship and live. The plan is a road map. It shows the way".

Governor To Ask Power To Alter Executive Branch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is seeking power to reorganize the state's executive departments by decree subject to the veto power of the Legislature.

His bid for the authority came Monday in a bill introduced, six weeks after the deadline, by Senate Majority Leader Frank W. King (D-Lucas).

The reorganization power, similar to that enjoyed by the President of the United States, is in line with Hoover Commission recommendations on federal government operations.

The King bill would permit the governor to submit a reorganization plan for a state agency during a session of the legislature. The plan could include a change in name and provisions for appointment and pay for the agency head.

The governor's authority would extend to all state departments and agencies except the legislative, judicial and state university branches.

The Legislature would have 60 days in which to disapprove the governor's reorganization. Should the assembly adjourn without acting, the proposal automatically would have the force of law 90 days later.

The unexpected bill caught legislators by surprise as they started their 16th work week.

It stole the legislative show from a bill originally designed only to require that children entering Ohio schools have anti-polio shots. Before the bill was passed by the House and sent to the Senate, however, Rep. Harold W. Oyster (R-Washington) had amended it to require immunizations for four other diseases—smallpox, whooping cough, lockjaw and diphtheria.

After amendment, the House passed the bill 117-5. The bill allows exceptions when a pupil presents a written statement from a parent or guardian objecting to the immunizations.

Some of the immunizations now are mandatory in some city school systems in Ohio, but not all.

Baseball Game Is Here

Circleville High School's baseball game with Greenfield, originally scheduled at Greenfield today, will be played here this afternoon. Game time is 4:15 p. m. Greenfield's diamond was too wet for competition.

sion appears to be a House vote on a bill to increase the state cigarette tax. It is one of DiSalle's prime tax measures in his attempt to raise another one-third of a billion dollars in additional revenue in the next two years.

A House committee cut the proposed tax from two cents to one cent a pack. An attempt will be made to restore the two-cent tax on the House floor. The two-cent tax would raise about 46 million dollars in the next two years.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to require symbols representing light and flight on Ohio's auto license tags.

The Senate Agriculture and Conservation Committee recommended Senate passage of a House-approved bill to permit quail hunting on lands owned and controlled by the state.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to require vehicles moving at less than 20 miles an hour to display flashing red lights to the rear at night.

The Senate by a 26-5 vote concurred in House amendments to a bill to create a Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) in Ohio to enforce a prohibition against employment discrimination in the state based on race, religion or national origin. The bill probably will reach DiSalle's desk later this week.

The House unanimously adopted a resolution on the 150th anniversary of the first publication of the Lancaster Eagle-Gazette.

Church Benefactor 'Fair' After Crash

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP) — Millionaire inventor Claude H. Foster continued to improve today and was listed in fair condition at Bellevue Hospital. The 87-year-old philanthropist suffered a skull fracture in a traffic accident Sunday.

A hospital spokesman reported Foster spent a restful night.

Foster was involved in a two-car collision on Ohio 4 while en route from his home at Vickery to Milan to dedicate an organ which he had contributed to a church there. He has spent a half million dollars to buy organs for 700 Ohio churches. He has given away six million dollars in the past 10 years to colleges, churches, hospitals and orphanages.

Queen Elizabeth Spends Very Lonesome Birthday

WINDSOR, England (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II marked a lonesome 33rd birthday today.

Her husband, Prince Philip, is in Latin America on a world tour. Her mother and Princess Margaret are visiting Rome.

The queen's two children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, are with her at Windsor Castle. But Charles has just recovered from the chicken pox and Anne is isolated after catching the disease on Saturday.

"This town has given me both," said Chief Howard. "I've still got my boy to take care of."

Howard's son Edward has been paralyzed and bedridden since he was injured in a high school football game a quarter of a century ago.

U.S. Air Travel Conditions Set

Senate Panel Gives OK to Cabinet Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Christian A. Herter won quick and unanimous approval of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today to succeed John Foster Dulles as secretary of state.

The committee acted after hearing the 64-year-old Herter, who has been chief aide to the cancer-stricken Dulles, say the U.S. air route to Berlin will be defended but not necessarily at the risk of nuclear war.

Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright (D - Ark.) announced that the nomination of Herter would go before the full Senate later today if possible. Quick confirmation would allow Herter to take office before leaving this weekend for the Western foreign ministers meeting in Paris.

Herter had told the committee he did not believe atomic and hydrogen bombs would be justified in the early stages if war developed over Berlin.

But, Herter told the committee, "if it became clear that Russia was resorting to all-out war, I think we would have to consider a change in our position."

Herter gave this view under prolonged questioning by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) at a hearing in which the applause of other members suggested overwhelming approval of his nomination as secretary of state.

Herter said that "without any question" Congress should be consulted before this country entered all-out war. He added the reservation that such consultation could not hold up instant retaliation in the event of attack.

While most members of the committee contented themselves with complimentary speeches about Herter, Morse raised policy questions.

In answer to what Morse called hypothetical questions, Herter said minor incidents over Berlin "ought not to be allowed to start a nuclear holocaust."

"I personally believe that Russia is realistic enough not to want to start a war any more than we do," Herter said at one point.

He said he did not believe the accidental shooting of an American plane over the corridor into Berlin would justify a war.

When asked by Morse his reaction if the Russians started shooting down American planes deliberately, Herter said, "I'd consider that an overt act of war."

Herter was assured in advance of committee approval.

Castro Wins Many Friends In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was not long ago that a lot of people around Washington regarded Fidel Castro as "just another of those Latin American revolutionaries." They thought he ought to go out and get himself a shave, and stop those executions in Cuba.

Today the bearded young man has a lot of new friends here, some in surprising places, who think he is sincere and is trying his best to do a good job for Cuba. They hope he'll carry out his promise of good government in the little republic long ridden by graft and dirty politics.

There are still some skeptics here, too, but they seem in the minority now. It may be because, as Castro puts it: "I did not come (sic) for money, but for friends, and to clear things about our revolution."

As he left Washington for the remainder of his two-week tour, he could look back on a good start.

Even at the State Department, where there was a great deal of reserve about the bearded man who came to Washington without an official invitation, one observer said: "The guy makes a good showing. He handled himself well."

Castro did nearly all of his talking here to newsmen. He addressed two gatherings of newsmen, gave innumerable interviews between speeches, and made one appearance on a television news panel show—Meet the Press.

Court Hears Four Charges Against Man

Robert B. Adkins, 31, Route 1, Ashville, made trips to Circleville Municipal Court yesterday and today to face four charges.

Adkins was picked up Sunday morning by the State Highway Patrol on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants and having no operator's license. He was fined $10 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driving rights suspended for six months, along with $35 and costs for no driver's license.

A little later it was learned by the State Highway Patrol that Adkins had taken a calf from the Donald Coon farm. The animal was in the back of his car. Adkins was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail on the calf theft accusation. Five days of the sentence were suspended and one-year probation was imposed.

STILL LATER it was learned by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department that Adkins had taken two calves instead of one. The sheriff filed another affidavit on the man.

The fourth charge resulted in a fine of $150 and 60 days in jail. The jail terms were ordered to run consecutively.

Ramey Sentenced On OMVI Charge

Charles R. Ramey, 49, 807 S. Scioto St., appeared in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Saturday on charges of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants. Ramey changed his plea of innocent to guilty. He was sentenced to three days in the County Jail, fined $100 and costs and deprived of his driving rights for six months. Ramey was indicted by a special session of the County Grand Jury in December 1958. He pleaded innocent of the OMVI charge at his arraignment.

Red China To Hike Military Spending

TOKYO (AP)—Red China announced today it will increase its military spending this year 16 per cent more than the 1958 figure. Finance Minister Li Hsien-nien told the National People's Congress in Peking, the rubber stamp Communist Parliament, that defense spending for 1959 will be the equivalent of about 2 1/2 billion dollars. The minister did not say what the extra funds would be used for, details which are secret in Communist countries. But the Tibetan uprising has forced the Peking government to send thousands of reinforcements and much material to the remote, mountainous area.

Rattles Plentiful In His Truck Now

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—John W. Makemason was listening for a rattle as he drove along in his pickup truck. While Makemason had his ear cocked for the rattle, the truck jumped a curb, knocked down a sign and smashed into a tree. Makemason had to get 20 stitches in his forehead.

Arthur Godfrey Hopes 'Luck' To Erase Tumors

NEW YORK (AP)—"I've had a helluva lot of luck in my time, probably more than any one person has a right to deserve, and maybe I'll be lucky again." That was television star Arthur Godfrey's comment as he announced he will enter a New York hospital later this week for examination of a chest tumor.

Brazilian President Set To Handle Surgery

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil's President Juscelino Kubitschek, a surgeon before he took to politics, will go on TV May 14 to perform a gall bladder operation. Kubitschek and Dr. Darrey Monteiro will operate on Carlos Freas, master of ceremonies on the Brazilian program "This is Your Life."

Stock Mart's Upward Drive Starts Ebbing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon as a three-day drive to record highs faltered on profit taking. Gains and losses of most key stocks ranged from fractions to about a point. A few specially situated made wider moves. American Telephone finally halted its tremendous advance based on a 3-for-1 stock split, showing a loss of more than 2 1/2 points. Thiolek, also helped by its 3-for-1 split, continued to spurge ahead, adding about 3 points. The when-issued stock based on the split advanced more than a point. Pfizer, also to be split 3-for-1, continued to decline on word of lower earnings. Zenith, which jumped 27 1/2 points Monday, was off more than 10 then sliced the loss to about 2. List Industries was up about a point. Gains of a point or better were scored by Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Du Pont, Johnson & Johnson, and Lukens Steel. Union Carbide dropped about 2. Fractional losses were shown by Standard Oil (New Jersey), Texas Co., Ford, Goodyear, International Telephone and General Dynamics. U.S. government bonds were steady.

Town St. Youth Struck by Auto

Columbus Man Is Sentenced

James A. Turner, 24, Columbus, was cited into Circleville Municipal Court today on two charges. Turner was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail for malicious destruction of property and $25 and costs for taking five quarts of gasoline. According to the court, both violations took place at the D. E. Goodchild Inc. construction firm.

Thug's Conscience Saves Suspect, 20

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Young Daniel W. Dough Jr., no longer faces the prospect of a jail term for attempted bank robbery because the real would-be robber turned out to have a heart. James Edward Anderson, 20, an ex-Navy man who is almost a double for Dough, came to the FBI Monday and admitted it was he—not Dough—who tried to rob the Bank of Virginia here last Friday.

Anderson said his conscience had bothered him ever since Dough, Jr., a newspaper copy boy, was arrested and charged with attempted robbery. Police promptly exonerated Dough and held Anderson in jail in default of $2,000 bond. "I'm glad the guy had a conscience," said Dough.

INVASION ON THE WAY? — Panama is on the lookout for the yacht Nola with Roberto Arias, ex-Panamanian ambassador to Britain, and his wife, British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn (above) on board. Panama's Minister of Justice Max Heurtematte said the crew from a shrimp boat reported helping the Nola raise a sunken arms cache near the Panama Canal and that Arias had planned to capture the port of Chorrera.

Man Is Jailed For Obscenity

Fred Brungs, making one of his frequent trips to Circleville Municipal Court, received a stiff penalty yesterday on charges of uttering obscene language in the presence of ladies and resisting arrest. Brungs, who lives at 216 W. Huston St., was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail on the obscene language charge plus $50 and costs for resisting. The charges were filed by Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover.

According to the court record, Brungs was cited before the bench about a week ago on a similar charge of uttering obscene language. He has been arrested several times in the past on such accusations. Police records indicate that Brungs has been arrested here at least 68 times, dating back to 1932. Judge Sterling M. Lamb took a dismal view of the man's growing arrest record.

Deputy Hoover said Brungs uttered the obscene language at the county jail in the presence of women and children about two days ago. A window was broken and Hoover lost part of his shirt in a scuffle which followed. Brungs received a bruise on the nose.

British Back U.S. In Ban on A-Tests

LONDON (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has written Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev supporting President Eisenhower's proposal of a ban on nuclear weapon tests below an altitude of 30 miles.

Sources close to the British government said Macmillan told Khrushchev Britain would prefer a more comprehensive test ban. But he said if that is impossible, it will back limited agreement of the type proposed by America and Britain last week at the Geneva conference on a nuclear test ban.

The Soviets took a negative attitude initially toward the Western proposal, terming it a deviation from the agreed purpose of the conference. But Western delegates at Geneva believe that Moscow's final word on the proposal is still to be heard.

The new Western proposal would exempt explosions deep below the

Star Seeks To Share in Power Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Linda Christian seeks $200,000 for her two children from the estate of her ex-husband, the late actor Tyrone Power.

In addition to provisions for the children in his will, Power promised to set up a fund to support them under terms of the couple's 1955 divorce. Miss Christian said in a complaint filed Monday. Power died of a heart attack last November at the age of 45. His will also provided for a third child, Tyrone William, born to his third wife, Mrs. Deborah Anne Power.

Power willed all his personal effects to his widow. The rest of his estate was ordered into five equal trust funds—one each for the widow and the son born two months after the actor's death; one each for his two daughters by Miss Christian; and the fifth for the benefit of Power's sister, Mrs. Anne Hardenbergh, with the provision that in the event of her death it will pass on to the actor's widowed mother, Mrs. Patricia Power.

No cash value was given for Power's estate when the will was filed for probate last Dec. 30. Miss Christian has estimated in a court petition that the estate totals five million dollars. The widow, in another petition, described it as "in excess of $500,000."

Leaving Scene Brings Penalty

Harold Webster, Lockbourne Air Force Base, accused of leaving the scene of an accident, was fined $50 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court yesterday. The court suspended $15 of the fine and imposed probation for six months. Webster was accused of driving an auto into the front porch of the Harry Speakman residence in Harrison Twp. The court ordered the driver to make restitution for damages.

MRS. PATRICIA DRIESBACH
Mrs. Patricia Driesbach, 34, Columbus, died at 3 a. m. yesterday in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, after a lengthy illness.

She was born March 16, 1925, in Columbus, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Menke. Mr. Menke who now lives in Florida has been a widower for many years. Mrs. Driesbach was a supervisor at the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. in Columbus.

Survivors include her husband, Charles A. Driesbach, formerly of Williamsport; a daughter, Karen Ann, and a son, Charles Jr., of the home; two sisters, Mrs. William Carr and Mrs. Harry Zimmerman, Columbus, and her father, Mr. Menke.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Wednesday at the Schoedinger Funeral Home, W. Broad St., Columbus. The Rev. Boder of the Lincoln Village Presbyterian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Springlawn Cemetery, Williamsport.

Friends may call any time until the funeral.

MAYNARD J. POLING

Mr. Maynard J. Poling, 36, Route 2, Laurelville, a bus driver for the Laurelville School, died at 9:35 a. m. today of a heart attack in the school shop.

He was born May 21, 1900 in Hocking County, the son of Wesley and Orpha Poling.

His wife, Martha, is deceased. Survivors are a son, Harold, Columbus; two daughters, Mrs. Millie Notestone, Chillicothe, and Mrs. Berneda-Haynes, Route 1, Laurelville; seven grandchildren. Two brothers, Berman, Columbus and Charles, Lancaster.

Arrangements are being completed by the Defenbaugh Funeral Home.

Here's Close Look At Chris Herter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tall, soft-spoken Christian Archibald Herter has a reputation for winning and keeping friends.

This talent has paid off handsomely in his political career. It will be valuable, too, as he operates as the new U. S. secretary of state, a job President Eisenhower recently named him to fill.

Whether Herter has the toughness the Russians seem to respect more than friendliness remains to be seen. For although Herter as undersecretary for the past 26 months has been the No. 2 man in the State Department, that gave him little chance to represent the United States at the international conference table.

Until illness forced him to yield that role, John Foster Dulles ran pretty much of a one-man operation in the negotiating field.

Things will change fast for Herter now. Already he is committed to attend at least two international sessions on the German problem—at Paris starting April 27 and at Geneva beginning May 11. Both are expected to require the utmost in diplomatic skill.

Herter grew up in the foreign affairs field. He was born 64 years ago in Paris, where his parents, artists Albert and Adele Herter, were studying.

He was graduated from Harvard University with honors in 1915.

Herter had first decided he wanted to be an architect. But tales of life abroad caught his imagination as a young man, and he enlisted in the U. S. Foreign Service.

In 1919 Herter went to Germany with Herbert Hoover to help direct the American Relief Council there. Later he became an assistant to Hoover when Hoover was secretary of commerce.

The youthful Herter got into Massachusetts politics in 1931, winning a seat in the lower chamber of the Massachusetts General Assembly. By 1939, he was speaker of the Massachusetts House, a post he kept four years.

By 1942, Herter was ready for bigger game—Congress. He barely managed to squeak by in his first try—by a margin of 2,900 votes.

The story was much the same when Herter decided to run for governor of Massachusetts against Paul A. Dever in 1952. Most observers didn't think he had a chance, but he came through with a 14,000-vote edge.

When he ran for governor a second time in 1954 Herter piled up a 75,252 margin over his opponent, even though he was running as a Republican in a year when Democrats seemed to be ruling the roost.

Herter was an early backer of Dwight D. Eisenhower for President. And in 1956 he agreed to return to Washington, as undersecretary of state.

Meanwhile, during his decade on Capitol Hill, as well as earlier, Herter had become known for his activities in foreign relations.

Herter is reputed to have a tremendous capacity for absorbing and retaining information.

Herter, like Dulles, also likes to travel. There is some doubt among State Department aides, however, that the new secretary will fly overseas as frequently as Dulles did as secretary.

Instead of trying to do everything himself, Herter has a reputation for delegating authority.

Assistants say he avoids trying to dictate a solution to any problem that is being considered. Rather he prefers to get people to work out and talk out their differences.

But when Herter thinks patience is no longer a virtue, he makes a decision and tells the others about it, aides say.

The Herter was married Aug. 25, 1917, and have four children: Christian Archibald Jr., Frederic Pratt, Adele (Mrs. Joseph Serone) and Eliot Miles. There are a dozen grandchildren.

U.S. Investors Hike Holdings In Italy Area

Goal Is To Penetrate 'Common Market,' Edge Into Middle East

Editors' note: Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, touring Europe, today writes about American investments in Italy.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst ROME (AP)—American business is investing more money in Italy with an eye toward getting inside the common market and into the growing trade with the Middle East.

But even Italian officials will admit the investment volume is much less than first hoped.

The American businessman is increasingly cautious. Some American firms already here can offer some possible reasons, based on their own problems.

Some Italian officials think that international tensions have been the chief but temporary roadblocks. They cite an apparent revival of confidence this year as a sign that investment by Americans is picking up and say that much talk of building plants here is under way.

There is even some hush-hush talk between American, Italian and French auto firms on joint production of a small car.

Still the Italian government is disappointed. It counted on getting the major share of American investment by firms moving into the common market area. This is the economic union of Italy, France, West Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, which in time will remove all trade barriers between themselves and present a united tariff wall—as yet unspecified height—to the rest of the world.

American plants within the six-nation area presumably would enjoy all the benefits, while those outside would find increasing competition in trading in the area.

Italy cites as advantages: Cheaper labor costs, growing consumer markets here, and cheaper transportation costs to the increasingly important markets of the Middle East.

But Belgium, for one, stresses lower taxes and other special inducements and the high skills of its workers.

Italian central banking officers think Americans were scared off for a time by France's troubles in Algeria and later by the Berlin crisis, both potential upsets of common market high hopes.

But private bankers cite special Italian problems. One is the large amount of government owned industry, dating back to Mussolini's days, often in competition with private industry. They also point to government interest in protecting local firms from competition with giant American companies which might come here.

The pharmaceutical industry is an example. The government doesn't want any but firms with new products not yet made here to come in. Italy, for instance, already makes all the penicillin it needs and Italy has about 1,200 small drug companies to protect.

Squibb, one of the American drug firms here, has been making its old and new products for several years, and is increasing its plant size to make more—largely with an eye on the Middle East.

8th Graders Making Study Of Stock Market Changes

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Fifteen rails up .02; 16 utilities up .24; 21 stocks off .14 and 17 industrials off .01.

To the average person this type of quotation might prove baffling, but to 80 students of Grant Junior High School's math class here it's just a statement of stock fluctuation.

The students must know and understand the workings of the stock market to insure themselves as stockholders that no money is lost on their investments.

The stock the pupils watch most carefully is Detroit Steel Corp. stock.

The eighth grade students did not corner the market with their stock nor would they cause a run on the market if they decided to sell.

But to each student his one-eighth of the one share the class owns is high finance.

The interest in stocks was started by C. H. Duduit, mathematics teacher, who figured if the students could become interested in the subject, teaching the difficult matter would be easier.

Duduit called a stock broker and purchased one share of Detroit Steel Corp. stock at $20.

The 80 students then purchased their individual shares at 25 cents each. Eighty stock certificates were mimeographed and given to the pupils.

Since that time, Duduit said, the school library has become a "madhouse" as the stockholders check the daily statements in newspapers and chart the different stocks.

He said the students have started to speculate on the future value of the stock.

One boy, who had purchased two shares for the original price, sold these plus his own for 50 cents each to pay his way to a ball game.

In order for the students to redeem their money the original share will be resold at the end of the school year. Duduit said that each one-eighth should be worth 75 cents at that time.

The stocks have already shown a profit. Recently Duduit, under whose name the stock is listed, received a dividend check for 13 cents.

The class tried to decide who should receive their vote at a stockholders' meeting in Detroit. They received an invitation to attend the meeting or send a proxy vote. Since the profits to date would not pay for such a trip they decided to use their proxy vote.

Duduit said the children have developed an interest in other stocks as well as Detroit Steel Corp. and pretend to buy and sell these stocks when the price is right.

Perhaps the most amazing feature of the stock investing scheme is that it is done entirely on the student's own time, not in class.

Dick Tootle Named Advisory Council Head

MEMBERS OF THE council present at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shell, Monroe Twp.; Harley Mace, Perry Twp.; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hay, Harrison Twp.; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tootle, Wayne Twp.; Ralph Dunkle, Circleville Twp.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carpenter, Muhlenberg Twp.; Mrs. Floy Brobst, Washington Twp.; Mrs. Judson Beougher, Salt Creek Twp.; Mrs. Forest Short, Circleville Twp.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graves, Pickaway Twp.; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel, Darby Twp.; Charles Rose, Deer Creek Twp.; Earl Palm, Route 4, and the Extension agents.

State Resting Its Case In Dayton Death Trial

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The state rests its case today against Ralph Woodgeard, 39, charged with first degree murder in the slaying of his brother.

Witnesses Monday testified they heard Ralph argue with Orville Woodgeard, 38, and that Ralph, with a gun in each hand, chased Orville into a junk yard and fired five shots.

Deputy Coroner James Funkhauser said Orville was shot five times but actually died when his throat was cut.

Who's Ahead in Sub Race?

Despite assurances by Washington that the United States has the capability of defeating Russia, the status of Soviet submarines is a continuing worry.

The Soviet Union not only has many more submarines than the United States, but reports indicate new types are capable of shooting rockets over a 500-mile range.

This development, in connection with the current use of Soviet subs in most of the waters of the world, suggests their capability of laying down quite a barrage of bombs along American coasts. While the U. S. can similarly pummel Russia, with bombs discharged from beneath Arctic ice and elsewhere, the question of superior Russian numbers is an important one.

Red China, too, is building a submarine fleet under Soviet supervision. These Chinese subs are designed to dispute the claim of the U. S. to overwhelming power in the Formosa Strait guarding the Chiang stronghold and other strategic points.

The U. S. is building some ballistic missile firing submarines but at a slow pace. There was a plan for 26 of them but the present program calls for only nine to be operational by 1963. The missile Polaris, built to aid submarine warfare, is to be ready about the same time.

Uncle Sam Employs One in Six

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

About one in every six employed persons in America now has a government job.

Golf is still gaining in popularity as a top outdoor sport. If all U. S. golf courses were laid side by side, they'd cover more than 1,000 square miles, nearly the size of Rhode Island.

Okay, so you know Francis Scott Key wrote the lyrics of "The Star Spangled Banner". But who wrote the music? It was composed by an Englishman, John Stafford Smith, under the title, "To Anacreon in Heaven."

The three-ball sign: Pawn shops are slowly vanishing from the American scene. But there are still 120 in New York City. And they serve two million customers a year.

Ever wonder why people talk so loud at a cocktail party? Dr. Carlton Fredericks, a nutritionist, says the reason is simple—alcohol temporarily impairs the hearing.

The sad truth: "When a modern husband comes home," says singer Dorothy Shay, "he no longer asks, 'what's cooking?' he asks, 'what's thawing?'"

Five physicians were among the signers of the U. S. Declaration of Independence. But why not? After all it was a prescription—the greatest prescription for human freedom ever written.

A survey showed most husbands would rather do the family shopping than wash the dishes. So what? So would most wives.

Smart hostesses in Turkey during the mid-nineteenth century had an unusual way of lighting their evening garden parties. They let loose wandering tortoises bearing candles on their shells.

Geographical tidbit: You can win money betting that the Pacific Ocean stretches as far East as New York City—at the Panama Canal.

Radios as small as sugar cubes are now being made. You can wear them as earrings.

An item for dieters: The greatest glutton in history was Vitellius, a Roman emperor, who spent up to $375,000 on a single banquet.

Yet he starved his own mother to death.

When you get to feeling too self-important you might consider this fact: Some two trillion people—that's 2,000,000,000,000—have lived and died on this earth since 4,000 B.C. And that's a lot of zeros!

A match between a thoroughbred horse and a deer might make an interesting race—if you could find a midget jockey to saddle the deer. Deer have been clocked at 49 m.p.h.

Real estate bargain: There are thousands of habitable islands for sale or rent in and around the United States and Canada. Some can be rented for as little as $50 a year. Why not buy an island and found your own empire?

No wonder most people seem more brawny than brainy. The average man has about 66 pounds of muscle, but less than four pounds of brains.

It was Ambrose Bierce who observed, "woman would be more charming if one could fall into her arms without falling into her hands."

Reds Are Ready for Cuba

By George Sokolsky

When Fidel Castro first appeared on the scene, he was greeted with great enthusiasm in the United States where dictators are disliked and prospective dictators are regarded as liberals. Those who know little about Cuba, like myself, were importuned to accept this man as an heroic figure, the savior of his people. Then I saw him on television addressing a hysterical mob and speaking with the irresponsibility which is so often recognizable in the front figures of a revolutionary movement. As I read what Fidel Castro was doing and saying I concluded that he is a characteristic front.

Then came the massacres. I had lived through similar massacres in Russia and China. For some reason, they all seem to be alike. Someone gains power and goes out to murder people en masse. It appears to be an essential blood-letting in the early days of a revolution. But Fidel Castro looks like a sofie and acts, on television, like an immature boy. True, I was asked to come to Cuba to witness the blood-letting. I declined. I had seen similar exhibitions of man's gross inhumanity. It is not advantageous to have another look.

Then came the threats to the United States and, of course, that was convincing that the man was a fool. A division of Marines could occupy the whole of Cuba and throw Fidel Castro and the bearded ones into the Caribbean. A sensible man does not make idiotic statements even to win applause, although comedians do that.

Finally, Fidel Castro decided to come to the United States without protocol, which only goes to show that he is not too smart, because the advantage of protocol is that nobody is outwardly hurt. If Castro had waited until our government had asked him to come, he would have been invited to stay at Blair House as the guest of the nation; he would have met the President; he would have had a ticker-tape parade in New York and a luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria—in a word, all the trimmings that go to distinguished guests. As it is, an impromptu program had to be rigged not to offend the poor devil, whose sin is bad manners, and the Vice President was dragged into it to save Castro's face.

Now, I have begun to receive letters from persons in Cuba or who have escaped from Castro, some of whom had been his supporters, telling me what a horrible man he is. This correspondence particularly comes from well-known anti-Communist individuals and organizations. The correspondence is all of one kind, namely, that the Castro government is violently against anti-Communists and that Castro is putting down the anti-Communists with as heavy a hand as he is putting down the followers of Batista. Whoever is actively against anti-Communists must have Communist affiliations.

This has also been seen in every country where the Communists established what they call a People's Republic. Usually, in the very early stages of such a government, the objective enemy has been the anti-Communist. The Castro government followed the general pattern by legalizing the Communist Party. The difference between such a government as Czechoslovakia in the days of Jan Masaryk and the Egypt of Nasser is that in Czechoslovakia the Communists were legalized and eventually, they killed Masaryk and took power, whereas in Egypt the Communists are outlawed and persecuted.

COULDN'T GET OFF THE FREEWAY—Charles Abboud, a mail carrier from Omaha, Neb., points to various complexities on map in Los Angeles as he tells about being "trapped" for seven hours on the freeway system. He was following his son's car, lost it and the "maniac drivers" wouldn't let him change lanes. When police finally came to his aid he couldn't remember the address or even the name of the relative he was going to visit and had to wire back to Omaha.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MARY HEALY saw a dress she just loved in the window of a Dallas department store, but practically fainted when she found out what it cost. "Can you imagine," she told her husband, Peter Lind Hayes, later, "they wanted $2,500 for that dress?" "Cheer up," counseled Peter. "They're probably cheaper if you order six at a time."

A Hollywood agent told his chum glumly, "My wife threatens to leave me if I don't stop running around." "Too bad," said the chum. "Yes it is," agreed the agent, "I'm going to miss her."

A used-car dealer, trying to sell a teen-ager a ninth-hand hot-rod, let him take it around the block for a trial spin. "It runs good," admitted the kid when he came back, "but it's not for me. I can't make it backfire!"

Sports Tough on Youngsters

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

It's natural for young boys and girls, but particularly boys, to enjoy competitive sports. A neighborhood game of softball, a class basketball game, a friendly tennis match—they are all fun and generally good exercise, too.

However, far too many school and community athletic programs over-emphasize competition. The stress is not placed on playing the game but on winning it. It is not merely competitive, but highly competitive.

Awhile back an excellent article, in the Journal of the American Medical Association, quoted the school health committee of the American Academy of Pediatrics as defining highly competitive athletics as:

"Competition in which the chief stress is placed on winning, with excessive emotional pressures applied by teachers, parents and others, and with parental interest going to the point of expressing undue concern over winning."

Any of you parents who have children participating in some organized community or school athletic program undoubtedly are aware of the importance these youngsters attach to their own performance. But are you really aware of the importance you attach to it?

This same J.A.M.A. article, which was written by Dr. J. L. Reichert, cites the emotional stress involved in a youngster's baseball game:

"One observer has taken the pulse and respirations of the father of the pitcher of the winning team and of the coach at the end of a 'World Series' game and has found them to be higher than those of the boy who pitched the game."

The strain, you see, often is worse on old Dad than on Junior, himself.

But aside from the emotional aspects, let's consider the physical stress for the children themselves.

Even though youngsters are almost perfectly matched in height, weight and age, their physical stamina, their judgment may be entirely different.

It is difficult, if not actually impossible, to determine accurately a young child's physical and emotional maturity.

Generally, body contact sports are not recommended for most youngsters who have not yet reached their teens.

Certainly physical checks should

The World Today

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The activities of Red China's rubber-stamp parliament, the National People's Congress, will bear careful watching. The current session may provide important clues to the immediate future of Red Chinese policy.

The parliament is the likely platform from which the Peiping regime will announce changes at its top level. The personalities involved in the changes—which the parliament will endorse unanimously—can be a guide to the outside world in plumbing the mysteries of Peiping policy and politics.

Will Red China now begin to throw her weight around in Africa and the Middle East as well as Asia? Will she apply brakes to the more unrealistic aspects of her economic program? Will she pursue a more fire-eating policy than ever with respect to the United States?

Such questions arise in the light of Mao Tse-tung's decision to give up his government post as chairman—equivalent to the presidency—of Communist China. At 65, Mao will retain his job as Communist party chairman, but it is likely his health has been failing and that he will retire more and more to the background.

A few days ago Peiping radio announced that in the latest full meeting of the Chinese Communist Central Committee, "the candidacies for the leading state posts were confirmed." The implication was that a number of changes are to be announced—perhaps a fairly large-scale shifting of top personnel.

There is much talk that old Marshal Chu Teh will succeed to Mao's government post. There is also a possibility that the job will go to the present premier, suave Chou En-lai. If this should come about, it would indicate Red China is increasingly anxious to join the big power club and make her weight felt at top levels in world councils. Chou's wide diplomatic experience would fit in with such a goal.

There are other candidates for the government chairmanship, including veteran Communist theoretician Liu Shao-chi. Others whose careers should be watched include such men as Marshal Ho Lung, economist Chen Yun and Foreign Minister Chen Yi, all vice premiers now.

If Ho Lung should rise to new prominence in the government, one might well look for increased Chinese interest in such Middle East areas as Iraq and even in African areas. Such interest, indeed, might even clash with Moscow's.

Should Chen Yi become premier in place of Chou En-lai, it might indicate a tougher and more reckless approach to the conflict with the United States over Nationalist China and the offshore islands. Chen Yi is a notorious fire-eater with regard to "liberation" of Formosa.

But a step upward for Chen Yun could indicate a milder policy and even a backing away from the super-ambitious goals of the economic program. It might hint at a tendency to avoid too risky adventuring in the international arena. This is a course the Soviets might welcome, since Peiping belligerence at the wrong time can have grave repercussions for the Kremlin. Chen Yun is regarded as strongly pro-Moscow.

It matters little who becomes chairman of government in Peiping. The Communist party will still run everything. But the choice of personalities to fill top government positions can be important as a fairly reliable barometer for judging how the political wind blows in Peiping.

DAR Delegates Being Wooed In Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Campaigning for president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution is a bigtime project that has taken this year's two candidates across the country.

The cost? "Plenty," says Mrs. Ashmead White of Lubec, Maine, vice president of an investment firm.

"I don't think there'd be any way of knowing," says Mrs. Ralph W. Newland of St. Joseph, Mich., who heads a family corporation.

Their long campaign comes to an end Thursday, when one or the other will be elected to the top office of the DAR. Each heads a state of 12 national officers.

The election will be the high point of the DAR's 68th Continental Congress which opened here Monday night.

Both candidates have slogans, campaign managers, and hospitality suites. Both have gone to the hustings. But it isn't quite like any political elections you know.

The issues seem obscure. And there's more socializing than soliloquizing.

Both women have hotel suite headquarters, open from early morning to late at night, serving coffee and snacks.

"We'll stay open as long as we have interested people—and we have been swamped," said Mrs. Newland.

Mrs. White, Maine's first candidate for the top DAR post, had a homestead coffee in her honor scheduled for three hours this morning.

Musical Wins Top Honors, But Hollywood Making None

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here's an oddity: Hollywood has acclaimed "Gigi" the No. 1 movie of 1958, yet production of other musicals is almost at a standstill.

Nary a tune is being shot in Hollywood today. Only one appears on the production schedule for future months. Fred Astaire is doing his first straight-acting role and recent acclaim for his dancing stems from his TV spectacular.

Now another great from the movie musicals—Gene Kelly—has taken his art to the home screen. He readily admitted that the reason is the collapse of theater musicals.

"I decided to take on TV because a picture deal fell through," he explained. "I was going to make a musical with J. Arthur Rank, appearing with Moira Shearer and Robert Morely. But it was called off—I guess the Rank organization is going in more for television."

So Gene took one of his long-standing offers to write his own ticket on TV. He has been re-

Judge Ponders Request For Transfer Injunction

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—After hearing arguments on the transfer of 2,100 acres in Brownhelm Twp. to the city of Lorain, Judge Leroy F. Kelly said Monday he will give a ruling by May 5. Township trustees asked for an injunction against the annexation by Lorain. The territory contains a new Ford Motor Co. plant appraised at 7 million dollars, on which the taxes are $173,381 a year.

hearsing for weeks for his extravaganza, which will show on CBS Friday night. Always the perfectionist, he has been taping many of the numbers to get big-screen quality.

"It isn't easy, even with the use of tape," he sighed. "Television isn't really a dancer's medium. The limitation in the size of the screen is obvious. The viewer doesn't want to see a closeup of the ballerina's face; he wants to see the movement of her whole body, and her relationship to the other dancers."

"Nor are the movies the final answer. The best way to see dancing is in the theater, where you get the kinetic sense of three dimensions."

Gene has been huffing in movies since 1942, on Broadway before that. And he's not ready to hang up his shoes yet.

"I've got a few more years of dancing in me," he said. "I can go into the straight dramatic parts; I've done them all along. But I'd still like to make some more musicals."

"I can understand the reluctance of the producers. Musicals generally cost a lot more money, and they don't want to get tied up with a big investment that might not pay off."

Ohio 'Needs' More Clinics For Diagnosis

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio needs more diagnostic clinics for the mentally retarded, a special governor's committee reports.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle named the group to review the problem of diagnosing and training mentally retarded children and adults. He termed it the first study of its kind ever made in Ohio.

Members of the committee are Mental Health Director Robert A. Haines, Health Director Ralph E. Dwork, Welfare Director Mary Gorman, E. E. Holt, superintendent of public instruction, and James R. Tichenor, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

The report said Ohio has 12,000 retarded pupils aged 6 to 18, and 9,500 mentally retarded persons in state institutions. About 900 retarded persons are committed to state care annually.

The State Education Department provides classes for slow learners and retarded pupils who can be educated. Cost of approximately 700 class units throughout the state varies from $1,950 to $4,500 each annually. The department estimates that those classes meet barely 20 per cent of those needed.

The committee termed diagnostic and other facilities for the mentally retarded inadequate in number and geographical location.

Treasury Chief Shuns Delay In Payment on Federal Debt

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson said today it would be immoral to postpone paying off part of the record national debt in prosperous times.

Furthermore, Anderson declared a budget surplus that would permit debt repayment is one of the steps required to head off inflation.

"We must realize that long term economic growth in real terms can be achieved only without inflation," Anderson said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of The Associated Press.

He rejected arguments of some administration critics who want to stimulate the economy through greater federal spending.

"We must not, as we come out of a recession, seek to force the economy into a quick boom which can later injure our long run capacity to produce," Anderson said.

The national debt now stands at 286 billion dollars — the highest point on record.

"To ignore the obligation of paying off some part of our debt during prosperous times is contrary to all of our American traditions of good faith and performance," Anderson said.

Anderson said he rejects talk that "efforts to balance the budget are without hope."

He recalled that last January the administration estimated federal revenues would total 77 billion dollars in the 1960 fiscal year that begins July 1.

"Today," he said, "I believe there is even more evidence to support this estimate than there was last January."

This statement conflicted with a recent estimate by the House Ways and Means Committee staff that revenues will fall more than a billion dollars short of the administration's target.

Scioto Ladies Aid Makes Bus Tour to Washington D.C.

Members of the Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid have recently returned from a bus trip to Washington D. C.

The group stayed at the Manger-Annapolis Hotel. They visited the Ford Theater where President Lincoln was assassinated 94 years ago on April 14, 1865. The Lincoln museum was another point of interest visited.

The next day the group visited the Jefferson Memorial, Taft Memorial, the White House and the Capitol Building. They were able to witness a session of Congress at which the congressmen were discussing cotton allotments for the Southern states.

Mt. Vernon, the home of President Washington, was toured. At Arlington, Va., they saw the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

A visit was made to the Bureau of Printing and Engraving and they observed money being made. Also on the agenda was a visit to the Smithsonian Institute.

Later the women got a view of the City from the top of the Washington Monument. They saw all the embassies, the National Airport and the National Zoological Gardens.

On the trip home they came via Gettysburg, Pa., and saw the Civil War battlefields.

The women of the group enjoyed their trip and they are grateful to their president, Mrs. Elzie Brooks, who arranged the trip.

Circleville Gardeners Hear About Bird Life and Lore

The Circleville Garden Club held an open meeting at the Methodist Church recently.

Charles R. Goslin, Lancaster, presented bird sketches and narrated the highlights of each one.

Goslin first explained the migration of birds, emphasizing that temperature has nothing to do with migration. He also stated that foggy weather is the best time to see the various birds.

More than 25 birds were sketched in color and their habits explained. The Cardinal is not a migratory bird, and bluebirds are in this area the year around. The American Goldfinch is also a permanent resident and feeds in the tops of trees.

The Chimney Swift can only build its nest in flight, and the number of trips it makes in building a nest, can be best told by the pile of twigs at the ground below the nest.

Goslin warned against caring for robins that seem sick, as they are known carriers of parrot fever. A tea followed the program. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wood and Mrs. C. E. Wright. Guests attending this meeting represented various Garden Clubs of Pickaway County.

Goods Are Hosts At Farewell Dinner

A carry-in dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Good, Route 2, for their son, Robert, who left Monday for Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., as an enlistee in the Air Force.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Palm, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mansson, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cunningham and Stevie, Newark; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loy and family, Mrs. Laura Smith and Debbie Sue, Circleville and Miss Thersa Riggins, Route 2.

Garden Club Sets Class Sessions

The Circleville Garden Club will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Lawson, 300 Sunset Drive.

There will be two classes for arrangements; one depicting Spring and another in which tulips will be used.

Donald McBeth will present "Pruning and Grafting" and Mrs. Nelson Bower will present "Information Please".

Assisting hostess will be Mrs. Howard Smith.

Wesley Wed Group Plans Social Hour

The Wesley Wed social group of First Methodist Church will meet at 6:30 p. m., Wednesday in the church social rooms for a covered-dish dinner.

At 7:30 p. m. a children's talent program will be presented.

Sunday School Class Elects New Officers

The election of officers was held when the Loving Boosters Class of First EUB Church met Saturday in the service center. The results of the election are, Danny Gibbs, president; Stephen Richardson, vice president; Patti Gibbs, secretary; Ann Perdion, treasurer; and Charles Rhodes, librarian.

Carlene Fullen and Carolyn Willis led the devotions. Mrs. Perdion gave the opening prayer. Ruth Ann Siebel read the scripture lesson and a poem was read by Amelia Thomas, entitled, "Rainy Robin".

Games were directed by Betty Gibbs and Ruth Ann Siebel. Winners were Ann Perdion, Branson Hawkes and Richard Brink.

Radiation Fails To Hurt Rat Offspring

CINCINNATI (AP)—A University of Washington researcher says scientists have discovered some rats living right in the shadow of an atomic blast area.

Dr. L. R. Donaldson said Monday researchers are studying the rats to see what effect atomic radiation has on their offspring.

He told a conference on water pollution that the rats were found on Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands of the south seas. The United States has carried out massive tests of nuclear devices at Eniwetok.

Donaldson said the rats produce new generations about twice a year, and "out of hundreds examined, we have yet to find a genetic defect."

But Donaldson, who headed biological investigation after some Pacific tests, said he believes there was genetic damage.

He said some rats were weakened by radiation, but were probably destroyed by competition to survive before the scientists could get to them.

Defenbaughs Tell Of Recent Journey

Mr. and Mrs. William Defenbaugh presented and narrated color slides Saturday evening of their recent trip to South America at the meeting of the American Legion Couples Club at the Post home.

A buffet supper was served by Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Cromley, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pickel, Jr.

A short business meeting was conducted by Mr. Cromley. The committee for the next meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Crites, Mr. and Mrs. James Price and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McAbee.

Stark County Chiefs Seek To Build New Jail

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Stark County commissioners say they will ask for more time to get the county jail into shape. The state fire marshal's office told them Monday to repair the jail in 60 days or tear it down. The commissioners want to wait until after November, when they expect to have a bond issue on the ballot for a new courthouse and jail.

Keep Squaw on Reservation

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my wife started going out with the girls. I became suspicious when she stayed out so late and I followed her. She was meeting her boss in a bar. I caused a big scene and the next day I went to the president of the company they worked for and he fired them both. Since then five people have phoned me from the office expressing their sympathy over what happened and all said "he affair had been going on for over three years (ever since she started working there). There are children involved on both sides. I forgave my wife for the children's sake but now she wants to get another job to help pay off some bills. Should I let her? I don't think she can be trusted.

WRONGED

DEAR WRONGED: Keep her home for the time being. Nobody changes over night.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 and have more problems than my mother. A boy at school took a liking to me and followed me around so much I started calling him my shadow. He begged me to go to an afternoon show with him but I refused. He called me nine times and my mother said, "For goodness sake, go with him and get rid of him! He liked me all the more. He asked me to take his I. D. bracelet and to tell you the truth I wanted to but my mother would have beaten me. He gave me a box of Easter candy and my mother served it to her bridge club and I didn't even get one piece. If I don't accept his I. D. bracelet it will ruin my friendship with his sister who is my age. What should I do?

TROUBLES

DEAR TROUBLES: You say if you ACCEPT his I. D. bracelet your mother will "brain" you, and if you DON'T, you'll lose his sister's friendship. I doubt if either your mother or his sister would resort to such drastic measures, but you'd better refuse the bracelet. A girl can live without a girlfriend, but she definitely needs her brains.

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced woman who is considered very attractive to men. My problem is this: Every man I've gone out with thinks that just because I've been married I have no morals.

The first thing they suggest is their apartment or a motel or something like that. I love to dance. I enjoy good clean fun and I'd like to meet a man with the same ideas. Now I ask you, was I born forty years too soon or am I just old-fashioned?

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: There is nothing "old-fashioned" about keeping one's self-respect. You are attracting the wrong kind of men. Change bait.

What Teenagers Want To Know

Should I Let Him Kiss Me On The First Date?

That walk home after a first date can be like shaking hands with an octopus. Decisions, decisions!

"If he tries to kiss me, should I let him?"

"I'm dying to kiss him, but I don't want him to think I let anybody kiss me on the first date."

"If I don't let him, maybe he won't ask me out again." "How can I keep my reputation as a 'cool' chick without being an iceberg. I want more than anything else in the world to be popular."

Stop fretting, girls! A nice girl does not hand out a kiss—or kisses on the first date, no matter how much she "digs" the boy. If he's worth liking, he'll respect you for it. Boys—hold your fire! She'll admire you for it, and she won't think you asked her out because you thought she would be an easy "make."

Kisses are very personal — they are supposed to mean something. Don't pass them out like pretzels or pretty soon the pretzel factory will be out of business.

Old-time screen star Greta Garbo built a fabulous reputation because she always "wanted to be alone." No one knew too much about her. She was mysterious, intriguing, special.

Intrigue is "big league" on dates. Make him or her wait for that first big kiss. It sets you up—like Garbo—as some special.

'Don't Care' Girl Tries To Take Own Life

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A red-haired burlesque dancer billed as the "I Don't Care Girl" wrote a farewell note to the man she cares for—and then tried to kill herself aboard an airliner Monday.

The note indicated the man plans to marry somebody else.

Mitzi Dore, 32, also known professionally as the "Happy-Go-Lucky Girl," was found unconscious from an overdose of tranquilizer pills in an American Airliner restroom. She was reported in critical condition today in a hospital.

Policeman L. W. Lane said the note, written on the back of a flight ticket, was addressed to Fred Raulin, Washington, D. C. real estate consultant. It read:

"Dear Fred: Hope you marry Nancy and will live happy ever after. I just can't go on living. Life is meaningless for me.

"When I realized I lost you, I wouldn't want to stay in your way. But just can't. Love is not what it is. All my love, Mitzi."

Raulin could not be reached in Washington for comment but his father, Fred Sr., said of his son's relationship with Miss Dore:

"He doesn't want anything to do with her. The less I hear about that girl the better—I know she doesn't belong in this family."

The father confirmed that his son is engaged to another woman but declined to identify her.

Lane, who met the American Airlines plane after it landed here, said Miss Dore boarded the airliner Sunday night in Washington.

Roundtown Gardeners Plan To Beautify Ted Lewis Park

Mrs. Wesley Edstrom, Jr. and Mrs. Robert Younkin presented information that they had compiled at the meeting of the Roundtown Garden Club held recently, at the home of Mrs. James Crabtree, 404 Stella Ave.

Mrs. Edstrom and Mrs. Younkin had attended a meeting with the Park Board and representatives from the other Circleville garden clubs to discuss future landscaping at Ted Lewis Park. A decision was made by members to make a donation toward the purchase of rose bushes for the park.

Mrs. John Beck reported on the last meeting of the regional council, held in Canal Winchester, and announced that the next meeting will be a picnic at Rising Park, Lancaster. It will be at noon on June 9. Each member is to bring a covered-dish.

Mrs. Al Dickard was selected book chairman. A discussion was held by the members on prospective projects for the Sesquicentennial year, 1960. Members planned to attend the trading post that will be held May 2, sponsored by the Mt. Pleasant Garden Club in Kingston. A dessert course was served by the hostess.

Young Soldier Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—A young soldier from Mogadore, Summit County, died Monday of a bullet wound inflicted by the accidental discharge of a .45 caliber pistol. He was Pfc. Nelson L. Femia, 20. Another soldier was clearing the pistol of bullets and it discharged, officers said.

Don't Argue - - - Get A Vacation Loan

Chances are, the argument started when He said, "Yes, I think that trip sounds like a great idea, but we just don't have the cash," and She said, "Well, then, what do you suggest?" Our suggestion is, settle the argument happily with a low-cost vacation loan from this bank. You'll agree it's the easiest way to enjoy the vacation of your dreams.

CLIMBING TOMATOES

Beautiful! Delicious! Easy to Grow!

WELL-ROOTED PLANTS
READY TO BEAR IN JUST 30 DAYS
BIG JUICY TOMATOES!

Amazing F-2 Hybrid bear heavily right up to frost — beautiful fences, trellises with bushels of juicy, best-tasting tomatoes. You get guaranteed healthy, open field grown plants. You'll see blossoms within 2 weeks — tomatoes start in about 30 days. These genuine Hybrid Climbers bear fruit all summer long until frost. Plenty of big, delicious, firm, juicy tomatoes — for your table month after month, with enough left over for relatives and friends. Meaty flesh of fine flavor and excellent quality. You haven't tasted good tomatoes until you eat home grown, vine ripened hybrid tomatoes.

Take little space!

These hardy F-2 Hybrid Climbing Tomatoes — climb up fences and trellises — or staked, they make beautiful borders. No staking, no bending to pick them. No mid-season droop like ordinary tomato plants.

"EVERYONE SHOULD KNOW!" Says North Carolina Woman: "Last year I ordered 12 of your Hybrid Climbing Tomato Plants and I have never seen anything like them. They grew ten feet tall and people would come by just to see them. I wish every one that has a small garden knew about them, for a few plants will supply all the tomatoes for an average family."

Big Pitch, Big Hit Formula of Old Gives Punch to Los Angeles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS For the first time since they blew out of Brooklyn, the Dodgers are sitting second in the National League.

They got there the way they used to do business, winning with the big pitcher and the big home run Monday night as Charlie Neal's leadoff shot in the ninth made Don Drysdale's three-hit, 11 strikeout good for a 2-1 victory at the Coliseum over the San Francisco Giants and Sad Sam Jones.

Drysdale, 22, called it his best game ever after collecting a 2-1 record and running up a string of 18 innings in which he was allowed but one run.

The Dodgers, who finished seventh last year, never were higher than third in that inaugural season at Los Angeles. Fact is, they haven't been as high as second since Aug. 31, 1957.

At the moment, the Dodgers are just percentage points (.133) behind Milwaukee's front-running Braves, who were idle. The Giants slipped to third, a half-game back.

Only two other games were scheduled in the majors Monday, and both were rained out. In the National, Pittsburgh had a 1-0 first inning lead over Philadelphia before calling it quits. In the American League, New York's game at Boston didn't even get started.

Drysdale, who now leads the majors with 25 strikeouts and has won four straight from the Giants since Aug. 8, was touched for Willie Mays' first homer of the season with two out in the first. Then he put down 21 in order before Andre Rodgers singled with two out in the eighth.

The young and lanky right-hander's lone moment of worry came in the ninth. With two out, Jackie Brandt beat out a roller, and Mays, just missing another homer with a foul ball sliced to right, drew Drysdale's only base on balls. The Dodgers then put it away after Orlando Cepeda banged into a force out for his first hitless game of the season.

Sad Sam (1-2) lost his second in a row, giving up six hits, walking five and striking out two. The Dodgers got the tying run home in the second on a walk, sacrifice and singles by Norm Larker and Don Zimmer. Jones then blanked the Dodgers on three hits until Neal rapped his first 1959 home run, into the left-center field seats.

Merchants Enter EOFL

The Circleville Merchants softball team has completed plans to participate in the Eastern Ohio Fastball League this season.

The Merchants' entry marks the second local team which will compete in the EOFL. The other squad is Stonerock's TV, formerly playing as the Top Hat team here.

According to Merchant Manager Bill Metcalf, his squad will play in both the Circleville Night Softball loop and the EOFL. Stonerock's also will take part in both leagues.

Trout Fever Breaking Out In Michigan

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — That wellknown spring malady known as trout fever is breaking out in more than 200,000 Michigan fisher men.

It gets worse April 25, the opening of the 1959 trout season.

On that day, if the weather is right, possibly 100,000 or more anglers will head for lakes and streams across the state.

In the wake of one of the worst winters in years, state conservation men are going ahead with their trout planting program pretty much on schedule. A stretch of good weather in recent weeks improved planting conditions considerably, particularly in the southern Lower Peninsula.

Planting began in late March. If the weather holds up, about half a million trout, most of legal size, will have been released by the end of April. That's about 25 per cent of the total for a normal year.

Of that early planting, nearly 250,000 will go into waters of the southern Lower Peninsula, about 180,000 in the area north of the Bay City-Muskegon line and the rest in the Upper Peninsula.

Over the whole season, however, about half of the two million trout to be planted will be released in the northern Lower Peninsula and roughly 25 per cent in the other two regions.

Mostly because of fisherman habits, the big plantings in southern areas are made before the season opening and prior to Memorial Day. After that, interest shifts to northern streams.

At least two-thirds of the planted trout will be rainbows, the rest brooks and browns.

The season will close Sept. 13.

Redlegs Plan Odd Lineup For Spahn

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Don't be surprised if the Cincinnati Reds' lineup looks a little strange tonight.

They're playing the mighty Milwaukee Braves and you might see, for example, Walt Dropo at first base.

That would shift Frankie Robinson back to the outfield and he might have Del Ennis and Pete Whisenand out there with him.

And perhaps rookie Dutch Dotterer may start behind the plate. This cast of players would give the Reds, top to bottom, all right-handed batters.

Why? Warren Spahn, the Braves' ageless southpaw marvel, is slated to start on the mound.

The old southpaw, now 38, beat the Reds five more times last season running his career total to 50 victories over Cincinnati, against 15 defeats.

Whatever lineup Manager Mayo Smith comes up with, it will show one of his pet themes with the Reds—maneuverability.

He said: "Eddie Kasko can play

Negro Is Named Xavier Captain

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ducky Castelle, 5-foot-11 speedster from Schenectady, N. Y., is the captain of Xavier University's 1959-60 basketball team.

He's the first Negro ever to head an athletic squad at the Roman Catholic university.

His selection was announced Monday night at a team dinner.

Senior Joe Viviano of Louisville was picked most valuable player for the second straight year. This season he finished his scholastic playing days with 1,338 points, a new mark for Xavier players.

Braves Pilot Just Loaded With Pitchers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Where the pitchers are concerned, Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves is like the old woman who lived in a shoe with one exception: He's got a lot of them but he does know what to do.

So far, Haney has been able to conduct a successful campaign against his National League rivals without calling on two of the most able hurlers on his staff to go all the way.

"If I were with any other club, I'd probably be yowling my head off to get out there and pitch," said Joey Jay, the 24-year-old right-hander from Middletown, Conn. "But not on this club. We're champions and I'm perfectly content to stick around for a while and just wait for my chance. I know I'll get it, too."

Haney called Jay from the bullpen just long enough to do away with two hitters in last Saturday's surprise defeat at the hands of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Carleton Willey, a 28-year-old right-hander from Cherryfield, Maine, hasn't seen any action at all during the regular season.

Haney says, however, that he has his reasons for letting them wait it out.

"With all the lousy weather we've been running into," Haney said, "makeup games and a rash of doubleheaders are apparently going to pile up on us. That's when they'll get their chance, maybe sooner."

Haney has called on his veterans — Bob Rush, Lew Burdette, Warren Spahn and Bob Buhl — to fill in as the four regular starters on his club.

three infield positions. Jim Pendleton can play the infield or outfield. I can use Frank Robinson in the outfield or at third. Frank Thomas can go at first, third or the outfield."

Bob Purkey will be on the mound for Cincinnati tonight.

Bob Terhune Headlines Atlanta Fete

Robert Terhune, State Director of Agriculture, was guest speaker at the Atlanta High School All-Sports banquet held Friday night in the school.

Rev. Robinson gave the Invocation and Benediction. Russel McDill, toastmaster, was introduced by W. E. Hobbie.

Mothers' Welcome was given by Mrs. Delbert Newton. Darrell Wisecup gave the athletes response. Vocal music was presented by Joyce McConkey, Wynonia Bennett and Judy Patterson.

Mrs. Pauline Patrick introduced the girls' volleyball team. They included A-1 team members of Ellen Hooks, Ruby Reisinger, Beverly Yates, Mary Bogard, Karen Gerhardt, Shirley Farmer, Ruth Hooks, Vivian Gifford and Rita Oyer.

THE B-1 TEAM consisted of Miss Bennett, Sue Ater, Lynn Wallace, Miss McConkey, Jeri Skinner, Barbara Remy, Linda Davis, Cheryl Martin and Flossie Self. Head Coach James Shaw made the presentation of awards to members of the baseball and basketball squads.

Varsity baseball awards went to Wisecup, Jerry Newton, Paul Morris, Tom Oyer, Ronnie Morris, Richard Gerhardt, Max Justice, Delbert Bush, Bill Yates, Corwin Donohoe, Gary Wisecup, Floyd Woolver and Norman Huffman.

Varsity basketball players were Wisecup, Darrell Long, Newton, Paul and Ronnie Morris, Oyer and Huffman.

Reserve players were Brooks McCoy, Gerhardt, Justice, Richard Reisinger, Bush, Yates, Donohoe, Wisecup and Woolver.

Cheerleaders were Vivian Gifford, Ruby Reisinger, Karen Gerhardt, Miss Bennett and Miss McConkey. Managers were Hugh Graves and William Puckett.

JUNIOR HIGH basketball players receiving awards were Larry McConkey, Terry Morris, Marvin Morris, David Bush, Jimmy Graves, Johnny Newton, Danny Hudnell and Ranny Justice.

Cheerleaders were Sue Remy, Janet Gerhardt, Carol McFadden, Carol Pollack and Joan Jordan. The Atlanta varsity finished the year with a 6-12 record, much better than the previous season.

Fanning Named Coach For Toledo Waite '11'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Waite High School's new football coach will be Peter (Red) Fanning, 32, who for the past three years has coached at Oberlin High School. Fanning was named Monday night to succeed Elmer Scallish, who is becoming an assistant coach at Purdue.

Finn Wins Marathon, Is Now Olympic Threat

BOSTON (AP)—Powerful Eino Oksanen of Finland has capped a comeback and stamped himself as a leading threat for next year's Olympic marathon crown by winning the Boston classic.

The 27-year-old Helsinki larceny detail detective broke up a two-man race a mile from the tape and beat Johnny Kelley by 300 yards Monday in a withering spurt. The time was 2:22:42 for the 26 miles, 385 yards of the 63rd annual race.

Pittsburgh divided 22 games with Milwaukee last season. The Pirates lost only one season series in 1958, bowing to Philadelphia, 10-12.

San Francisco's Giants lost three season series in 1958. They lost 16 of 22 games to Milwaukee. They had a 10-12 record with both the Pirates and Cubs.

Burke Grabs Loot In Houston Playoff

HOUSTON (AP) — Jack Burke Jr. moved over to his new champions golf course today after scoring an amazing 64 to beat Julius Boros in the 18-hole playoff for the $30,000 Houston Golf Classic title.

Burke's 30-34 — 64, one stroke short of the tournament record, gave him $4,300 and jumped him from 30th to 10th place among the year's leading money winners.

Burke today joined Jimmy Demaret in formally dedicating and opening their new 18-hole Champions course northwest of Houston. Burke, who does not approve of Las Vegas gambling, is passing up this week's tournament there but will compete next week in the Colonial National Invitation at Fort Worth.

Scioto Bumps Walnut, 10-4 In Tournament

The Buffalos of Scioto advanced in the Pickaway County Baseball Tournament with a 10-4 victory over Walnut yesterday. The game was played on the Ashville diamond.

Scioto picked up the win behind the two-hit pitching of Roy Sanders and a 11-hit outburst by his teammates. The hitting attack included triples by Dick Kershner, Terry Little and Bob White-side.

Tom Harber absorbed the loss. He was relieved in the third by Lloyd Davidson who was spelled in the sixth by Dave Weaver. Weaver did his cause with a triple, the only other extra base blow of the game.

Sanders proved rough to touch as he fanned 11 and walked five. Harber whiffed three, Davidson four and Weaver two.

WALNUT rambled to a 2-0 lead in the first, but Scioto came back with six markers in the third and four in the sixth. Walnut retaliated with single tallies in the fifth and seventh and end scoring for the day.

Scioto's next test in the tourney is scheduled Friday in a meeting with the winner of the Atlanta-Williamsport game.

MORE PROOF...it pays to feed PURINA

Cages net $2.86 per bird

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Orians, who farm near Wharton, Ohio, made $2.86 per bird net profit for twelve months. This was after all costs had been figured in, including replacements, depreciation, electricity, feed cost, sanitation—all expenses paid out during a year's time.

The birds came into production in October, 1957, and for the first year averaged 68.6% lay on a Purina Check-R-Mix ration.

"We like the profits we're making on Purina," said Mr. Orians. "I'm planning on adding more cages in the near future—soon as I get the barn fixed up to take them." Following are the records of performance of the 1,000 birds:

Egg Income	$7,590.83
Feed Cost (including sanitation)	3,500.34

SEEKS SHELTER FROM RAIN—Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain dashes from her car to the shelter of an umbrella as she arrives at Badminton, England, for the horse trials. Also attending the annual sports event were the Queen Mother, Princess Margaret and other members of the royal family.

British Say Ike Is Giving Up Leadership

LONDON (AP)—The resignation of John Foster Dulles has raised some editorial doubts here of President Eisenhower's ability to carry on as leader of the West. Henry Brandon wrote in the influential Sunday Times that "Eisenhower will have to exercise the full responsibilities of his office to give American leadership the power and weight it will need in the coming East-West talks."

Brandon said Dulles wielded such authority that only he could influence a person like West German Chancellor Adenauer.

A. J. P. Taylor, British historian, writing in the Sunday Express, said the sole cause of the current weakness in the British-American alliance is lack of leadership. That leadership would have to come from the American side. But Eisenhower is too sick to provide it, said Taylor.

Malcolm Muggeridge, acid Sunday Pictorial columnist, wrote: "President Eisenhower is a limping man who has lost the foreign policy crutch provided by Dulles."

Grand Jury Action Asked In Slaying

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—County prosecutor Robert Marrs says he wants the grand jury to study the Hires holdup - slaying soon.

Frank D. Poindexter, last one arrested of three men charged with murder in the case, was returned here under guard from Indianapolis Monday.

Mrs. Marie Hires died April 12 of gunshot wounds, two days after she shot it out with two bandits who tried to invade her home.

Poindexter, 49, and Hollis Leigh, 42, both of Cincinnati, have been charged with first degree murder, shooting to kill and armed robbery.

Sanuel Decker, 42, of Hamilton, was charged with first degree murder. Marrs said Decker admitted helping Poindexter and Leigh plot the holdup.

Police said Mrs. Hires' husband, Herschell, identified Poindexter Monday as the bandit who shot his wife. Hires is still in poor condition at a hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen.

Want To Conduct A Real Symphony Orchestra, Pal?

CINCINNATI (AP)—You say you want to conduct an orchestra? A symphony?

The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra awaits you. But you'll have to prove you have a heap of talent to get into this school for aspiring maestros.

The two-week school starts Sept. 28 with the orchestra's present skipper, Max Rudolf, presiding.

But there will be only 10 students—selected from about 100 applications filed by conductors of community and college orchestras in the United States and Canada.

In those two weeks, the students will pack concentrated study of conducting techniques and related problems.

Their laboratory: The full orchestra itself, plus small instrumental ensembles.

The American Symphony Orchestra League sponsors the project.

Red Bear Growls At Norway Policy

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia has warned Norway her decision to build new NATO munitions dumps and bomber bases on Norwegian soil is not "in the clear interests of peace."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed the Soviet protest note to Ambassador B. H. Gunderson. It complained particularly against the building of dumps for joint use with West Germany.

The Soviet note warned that it did not help matters for Norway to prepare a bridgehead for West German forces.

Driver, 5, Smashes Market Window

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Deputies who rushed to a supermarket to answer a burglar alarm found a plate glass door smashed and a tiny, 2½-horsepower car inside.

The driver was Gregory Skeen, 5, who had driven straight through the door.

The boy had been practicing driving in the store's parking lot, police said. He wound up in the hospital with minor cuts and bruises.

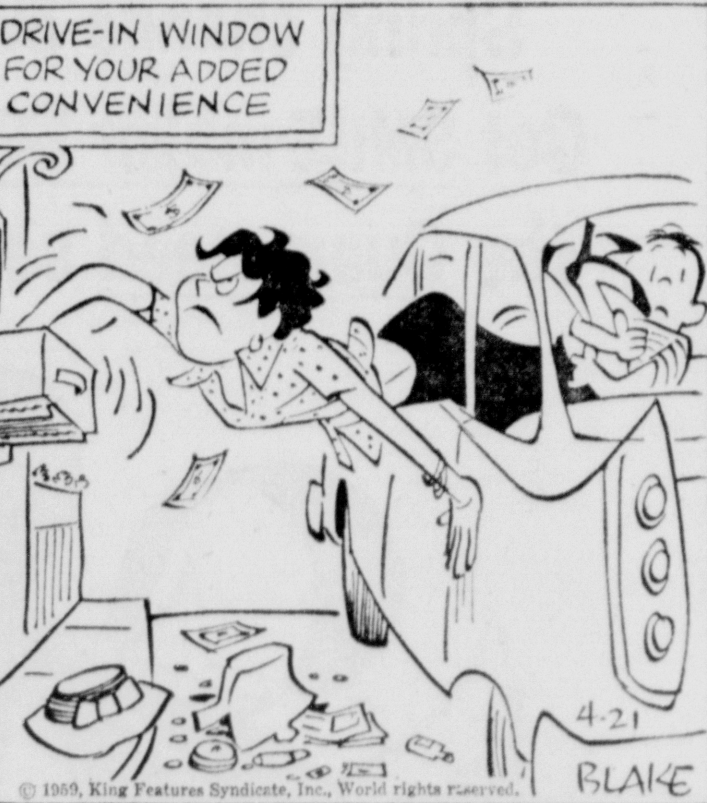

No charges were filed. The boy's daddy, Maj. Henry B. Skeen, said he will pay the $300 damage bill.

Smoke Wilson, Star Route Driver, Completes Career

Freland (Smoke) Wilson, 65, Route 4, April 11 retired from a Circleville Post Office Star Route after 17 years and more than 700,000 miles of traveling under his "belt".

Wilson's retirement climaxed 17 years of driving the Columbus to Ironton and Circleville to Athens mail delivery routes with just two minor accidents and only one day of lost time due to impassable weather.

The West Virginia native started driving a Star Route under E. E. Porter, who had the Postal contract until his death several years ago.

Porter was killed at the railroad crossing in Stoutsville while enroute to Lancaster with mail delivery. Forster, 427 S. Pickaway St., became the low bidder on the Star Route and Wilson immediately went to work for Easterday without losing a day's work.

WILSON HAS BEEN driving the Circleville to Athens route since July 1, 1947 and says "I could practically drive it blindfolded now." He put 335,000 miles on one truck while driving this route.

The route is 131 miles round-trip, which Smoke drove six days a week for nearly 12 years. The Athens route required stops at Laurelsville, Adelphi, South Bloomingville, New Plymouth, Carbondale, Mineral, Marshfield and Athens and then the return trip home and all these stops.

Local Postmaster Charles Walters said he could set his watch by Wilson's promptness no matter what the weather. This is a comment to be proud of due to the steep hills made difficult in icy weather.

Walters also stated there isn't a safer driver in the neighborhood than Smoke. "He never went over 40 to 45 miles an hour and was late just three times in 12 years," Walters said.

Twice he was late due to two minor accidents and once due to the weather conditions. Wilson's monotonous and physically exhausting working conditions were indeed more remarkable because he has suffered arthritis for several years which stiffened one leg.

Wilson's retirement ended 55 years of work. He began his laborious chores at the age of 10 working on a farm in Wayne County, W. Va. Since then he has been employed as a logger, railroader, coal miner, construction worker and truck driver.

DURING WORLD WAR I he spent a year in the U. S. Army. He came to Pickaway County with the construction crew of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad in 1928.

When the railroad was completed he went to work for Sturm and Dillard and then spent six years with the City Service Department.

He was employed by the County Engineering Department for four years before joining Porter, hauling coal and fertilizer.

When Porter was awarded the Wilson also drove a Columbus to Ironton Star Route for five years to total 17 years and 700,000 miles of driving a mail delivery route. Circleville Postmaster Charles Walters said he could set his watch by Wilson's promptness in any type of weather. In his 700,000 miles and years of driving Wilson incurred only two minor accidents and was halted just one day due to impassable weather. Star Route bid from Columbus to Ironton. Wilson drove the route, which was 315 miles round-trip, six days a week. During his five years on this route he was halted from delivering the mail one time.

That was during the Thanksgiving 1950 snowfall which practically paralyzed Ohio for a week. Smoke was stopped one day.

Wilson will be missed by his many hundreds of friends along the Athens route. After approximately 3,750 days of driving one hool than Smoke. "He never route, even strangers would miss the familiar limp of the Circleville clock-setter."

WILSON AND HIS wife, Pearl, have four grown children. They are Mrs. Polly Trego, Route 3; Mrs. Esther Smith, Route 4; Mrs. Betty Willard, Route 4, and Luther Wilson, Route 3. They have 17 grandchildren.

Businessmen Urged To Take Political Roles

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—"Business in politics day" began at Ohio Wesleyan University here Monday with business representatives taking the stand to tell their side of the story.

Wednesday labor has its say in the Arneson Institute of Practical Politics' program.

Hoyt P. Steele, governmental relations manager for the General Electric Co., said his firm believes in communication with the public as a means of influencing legislation. He added that they also encourage, in a non-partisan way, company managers and employees to get into partisan politics.

This year the institute departed from its annual Republican and Democratic days to look at business and labor in the political scene.

Steele said GE managers are urged to join and work for the party of their choice as individuals on their own time and with their own money.

Steele moderated a discussion by a panel of businessmen.

A similar panel discussion by labor spokesmen will be held Wednesday.

Amanda Slates May Day Shows

Amanda High School vocal ensembles, the Pioneers and the Starlighters, have scheduled a minstrel show for 8:15 p. m. on May 1 at the school.

The show features the following cast: Larry Soliday, interloctor; Roger Smith as Bones; Darrel Young as Rastus, Don LaBonte as Leroy; Larry Beougher as Regor; Gary Young as Huck; John Siebelton as Yogi; Larry Johns as Andy; and Gerald Stoughton, as Deacon.

Vocal students from grades four, five and six will present a short operetta starting at 7:30 p. m. It is entitled "Song of the Golden West".

The operetta and minstrel show have been arranged as a May Day evening program entitled "May Day Melody and Mirth". The public is invited.

since he has missed a full week's pay. He stated he was forced to retire by his severe arthritic condition.

He said he will miss his daily drive through the foothills of Ohio but will try to take his mind off it by engaging in his favorite hobbies of gardening, fishing, hunting and raising chickens.

Emmet M. Evans, 310 Watt St., assumed Wilson's duties on the Star Route. Evans knows he will have "to be on his toes" to equal Wilson's record of unfailing devotion to his job and promptness, for Athens, Circleville and his other stops will lose track of time without a "clock-setter".

Wild Game, Fish Live in Abandoned Steel Mill Furnace

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Wanted: Wild game hunter to dismantle U. S. Steel Corp. blast furnace. A fisherman might help too.

So far crews tearing down the old No. 6 blast furnace at the Ohio Works here have found a live garter snake 18 inches long living in a top section of the furnace about 160 feet above the ground and several fish in the cooling system.

Workmen can't explain how the snake got on top of the furnace or how it survived the long cold winter atop the idle stack.

They do know that the fish must have come through the screened water intakes from the Mahoning River, even though fish do not normally live in the hot, polluted river. So they must have come downstream from above the steel mills during the big floods of January and February. The record catch so far is a one-foot fish.

Red China Plans Melting Glaciers

TOKYO, (AP) — Communist China says that 3,000 scientists have begun a vast project to water farmlands in northwest China by melting enormous glaciers.

Peiping radio said men and airplanes will spread black materials, mostly coal dust and burned grass and wood, on the snow-capped Kilien Mountains in Kansu province.

The black will absorb the sun's rays, melting the snow and ice. Airplanes will bomb critical points on the glacier.

In two months, the scientists expect to obtain enough water to irrigate more than 50,000 acres of potential farmland.

She Just Can't Settle Down But Is Very Happily Married

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Mimi Hines is one of the world's most happily married women, and nobody can understand why.

As half of the suddenly famous comedy team of Phil Ford and Mimi Hines, Mimi has broken all the rules for a happy marriage. She doesn't darn her husband's socks, or cook big juicy steaks for his dinner. She doesn't stay demurely in the background when he tells a funny story.

Since their marriage seven years ago, Phil and Mimi have never had a home, or even an apartment. Most of the time they live on trains and planes, with an occasional hotel suite.

"Once we did buy a 37-foot trailer, all painted silver and big as a locomotive," says Mimi. "I decided I would be domestic and put up frilly curtains and learn to cook."

"Mimi's idea of learning to cook was to stick to one thing until she mastered it," says Phil, "so we had roast duck with orange sauce every night for a week. Then the trailer burned up when a brake caught fire going down a mountain road and we gave it all up."

Mimi and Phil have been on stage almost since birth. Mimi made her debut at the age of 2 and Phil was not much older.

They met in Anchorage, Alaska, where each was doing a separate night club act. Mimi's club went broke and Phil's partner quit, so they formed a team.

This summer they're booked to appear in Paris and at the Moscow Exhibit. What do they plan to dish out for the Soviets?

"Oh, just our usual act," says Phil. "Mimi's brand of humor is sort of universal. When she falls on her face, you can laugh even in Japanese."

Phil and Mimi would like to have children some day, but they have no intention of settling down in a split-level ranch house.

Frosh Senator Is Needed in Vote on Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Freshman Sen. Tennyson Guyer (R-Hancock) got a taste of defeat and victory in quick succession on his bill to require symbols of light and flight on Ohio auto tags in 1961.

When there was no opposition for the measure, a Senate vote was taken Monday and except for a few "yes" votes from close friends, the vote was solidly "no."

The personable senator sagged in his seat, a stricken loon on his face.

But as the roll call ended, Sen. Arthur Blake (D-Belmont) arose, said he was ashamed that he voted against the bill and asked others to change their negative votes.

Another roll call brought the gag to light and the bill, which provides symbols of a light bulb and an airplane on Ohio license plates, was passed and sent to the House.
